Glen Robertson

Growing up in Benalla in north-east Victoria allowed me to appreciate the outdoors and sport. Most summer days we would spend the afternoons swimming in the lake or playing tennis and in the winter, we would play football and basketball. Living within a short distance of rivers, lakes, mountains and forests meant we would enjoy camping or fishing when we could. For VCE I attended Assumption College in Kilmore where I was a boarding student. Can you imagine 24 hours at school and weekends? I loved it!

Having always enjoyed being healthy and being physically active it was obvious to move into this field and end up a Physical Education teacher. I have spent 12 years of my adult life at the St Paul's campus – Emmanuel College and have enjoyed every bit. I have met so many amazing people and have had an array of experiences making our school one of my favourite places.
